

Delivery Marketplace Integration for Aloha Cloud

Your point of sale, fully integrated with all your third-party delivery needs.

Eliminate Tablet Turmoil

Delivery Marketplace Integration, powered by Chowly, helps you expand your restaurant to third party delivery sites without confusion or clutter. Orders that come in from Grubhub, Doordash and UberEats / Postmates will flow through your Aloha Cloud point of sale, so your staff doesn't have to watch for orders and then duplicate them in the physical terminal. And, when you have menu changes or need to 86 an item for the night, you only need to make the change once in your back office, and it will update to all your 3rd party menus. With Delivery Marketplace Integration, you can better manage your online delivery partners.

Features:

- POS Sync: Sync third-party data straight into your Aloha Cloud solution.
- Blanket Percentage: Any upcharges for third-party ordering can be done with a blanket percentage—so one menu can rule them all.
- Menu Tags: Change menu tags in Aloha Cloud and automatically push updates to the third-party sites.
- Consolidated reporting : All your orders flow in POS and Aloha Cloud back office, giving you a single place to get your sales reports for all orders.

Benefits

Save on Labor Costs: Don't worry about needing an employee to enter orders into the point of sale—they'll already be programmed in.

Improve order accuracy: With information already in the system, your orders stay more accurate, even during peak times.

Save time and reduce confusion: Instead of logging into every third-party platform, you can view all orders in your Aloha Cloud reporting.

Add on any delivery platforms: Third-party options are already integrated, so you can add on all the major delivery platforms without the operational headache.

Easily and quickly update all menus: With Delivery Marketplace Integration for Aloha Cloud, you only need to change your menu from one source instead of all your tablets.

Third-party ordering is a must-have for consumers. Having the technology that can manage on and off-premise orders is the key to faster, more accurate orders. With Delivery Marketplace Integration for Aloha Cloud, you'll be able to handle all your orders with ease—in just one system.
